

Deadline For Nominations Sees Two In Public Works Race As Donahue Quits

In a last minute surprise move, James W. Donahue, 56 Foster st., yesterday informed the PRESS of his withdrawal as candidate for the Board of Public Works in the forthcoming elections because of an "unforeseen development, the substance of which I am not at liberty to divulge."

In his statement, Mr. Donahue endorsed Joseph P. Greeley, 10 Farmer rd., in his stead.

Others who withdrew from the political races during the week are: Nelson Brown, 45 Cleveland st., who had taken out papers for a three-year term on the School Committee, and William J. McKeever, 78 Menotomy rd., who had taken out papers for the Veteran's Housing Authority vacancy created by the resignation of Harold Magnuson, who is now Town Moderator. The unexpired term will run out in 1953.

A last minute candidate for this two year term on the Housing Authority is Cornelius J. Brosnan, 52 Egerton rd., who filed his nomination papers last Monday, which was the deadline.

Mr. Donahue's withdrawal from the Public Works race has left but two candidates for this office. They are Mr. Greeley and Edward Higgins, 78 Scituate st.

Mr. Donahue had taken out nomination papers for the Board of Public Works upon the announcement of Frank J. Hughes's withdrawal as candidate for the position, and his entry into the race was accompanied by some fireworks as he blasted existing so-called caucuses, saying in a message to the PRESS that he was "opposed to pre-selection and endorsement by non-representative pressure groups that obviously arrange their procedure to scare out 'unchosen' candidates."

Mr. Donahue's statement of withdrawal is as follows:

An unforeseen development, the substance of which I am not at liberty to divulge, requires me to withdraw from the contest for the Board of Public Works.

After reviewing the qualifications of the other candidates, I endorse Joseph P. Greeley one hundred percent because I feel certain he has the ability and experience to augment the work of the other members of this so important Board.

The people of Arlington will find Joseph P. Greeley to be honest, sincere and a tireless worker who will exert himself to the limit. Therefore I sincerely urge all my friends and all the voters to get behind him and when March 5 arrives we will have no regrets.

Lyman School Escapees Are Caught Here

Three escapees from Lyman school, driving a stolen car, were captured at gunpoint by two alert Arlington police officers on Mass. ave., early Saturday morning.

About 2:30 a.m. Officer George Alexie operating the cruiser stopped to chat with officer James Casali near Magnolia st., in East Arlington.

The men spotted a car speeding up the avenue from Cambridge and pursued it after the operator had refused to halt.

The officers drew abreast of the car at Lake st., and Officer Casali waved them to the side of the road. Instead of stopping the car swerved toward the cruiser forcing it to go between the islands.

Alexie and Casali kept in pursuit of the car which sped at breakneck speed toward Arlington center. They again drew alongside the car at Franklin st., where Officer Casali drew his gun and pointed it at the driver ordering him to halt.

Three youths were arrested on suspicion and taken to headquarters where police said they confessed to escaping from the Lyman School for Boys in Westboro.

They were also alleged to have confessed stealing the car in which they were riding.

The youths were turned over to the Framingham police Saturday morning.

Police Seeking Clues To Reported Sex Attacks Here

One In Symmes Hospital After Turnpike Crash

The search for the men responsible for the increasing number of so-called sex attacks on Arlington women and children was being expanded this week.

Lt. James Flynn and the inspectors of the police department, hampered by the lack of clues, were more determined than ever to catch the party who has been terrorizing the Arlington Hts. area for the past two months.

What was thought to be a new lead in the case fizzled, following the scotching of a 20 year old girl in Arlington center shortly after midnight, Friday.

The girl was alighting from a street car in the center when a man got off behind her. As the car left the stop the man said, "I am walking you home."

The girl became frightened and seeing another man waiting for an inbound car rushed over and told him what had happened.

The man raced off towards Broadway as a route officer was informed of the incident.

Officer George Morgan informed headquarters of what had happened and three cruisers with additional men were sped to the area.

Police carried on an hour long intensive hunt for the culprit but he could not be found.

A Short Short Story

"That's my hospital, up there on the hill," we told a visitor from outside.

"Our guest laughed. 'Your hospital—I didn't know you owned a hospital,'

"Oh, well," we answered, "I do not own it alone. I'm just one of thousands of owners."

"What do you mean, 'thousands of owners?'"

"Just that," we said. "You see that grand hospital has been bought and paid for by residents of this town. We made it what it was 'way back around the turn of the century; then we made it what it is today, and now we are preparing to make it what it will be in the future—one of the finest and best equipped hospitals in the nation."

Our guest was interested. "Do you mean to tell me that you, the people of Arlington, have done this without State or County help?"

"Nary a penny from State, County or Township. Just 'We the People have done it.'"

"But, how could you do it?" the visitor asked. "How could a small town like this build and maintain a hospital like that?"

"Don't call it THAT. Symmes is the name, in honor of the founder. How do we do it?" we continued. "Well, right now is a good example. We are promoting what we call a Completion Fund Drive—for $402,000.

"Heavens!" our guest gasped. "Do you expect to get it?"

"We sure do, and we will. Why, already, among individual contributions of various sums, we have received a gift of One Thousand Dollars from an anonymous donor. How is that for a combination of civic pride and noble modesty?"

We paused on the way, and looked at the imposing pile up there on the hill. Finally I broke the silence: "Do you blame me for being proud of MY hospital?"

"Proud!" my companion said. "Why if we had something like that in my town, I'd burst with pride. And I'd tell the world."

Women Voters Hear A Talk On Manager Plan

The proposed Town Manager Act will be presented briefly by Mrs. John B. Curtis, local affairs chairman of the League of Women Voters of Arlington at meetings for the league members on Wednesday, February 7 and Thursday, February 8.

The rest of the discussion period will be given over to a consideration of the legislative program of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts for the current session of the General Court. This will be presented by the legislative committee, headed by Mrs. Gordon Thompson.

The meeting will take place on Wednesday, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Richard Bolt at 34 Temple street at 7:45 p.m., and on Thursday, February 8, at the home of Mrs. Peter Bertocci at 243 Park avenue at 9:45 a.m.

Mahoney In Plea For Free Public Vote

"Let the people decide what form of government they wish to be represented by," said candidate for Selectman Robert E. Mahoney, of 260 Broadway when quizzed by the Arlington PRESS.

"Let's not have a small group inflict our Town with a burden which could leave its people open to a phoney tax rate and high assessments," continued Mahoney who received 5,317 votes as a successful candidate for Planning Board for the one term in 1949.

Mahoney, a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 3, has been very active in Arlington community drives last year he served as publicity director for the March of Dimes and was active in the A. Y. A. baseball league. At the present time he is precinct 3 director for the Symmes Hospital Drive and again is serving as publicity director for the March of Dimes.

The candidate for Selectman is a member of the Arlington K of C, Council 109, the Arlington Democratic Town Committee, and serves as executive vice president of the Middlesex County Young Democrats.

Mahoney who operates a successful real estate and insurance business in Arlington feels he is qualified by experience in civic affairs to give Arlington a capable economical government.

"I have the time and the knowledge to continue good government in Arlington," said Mahoney whose family has made their home here for over 75 years.

Fort Devens Escapees Are Taken Here

Four escapees from the Ft. Devens stockade were captured here early Saturday morning after a mile and a half chase of a car they had allegedly stolen in Harvard Mass., earlier in the evening. A fifth soldier was arrested later at his Mystic st. home.

Following their escape from the camp the quintet were reported to have broken into a garage on Massachusetts ave., Harvard and sped off in the owners car.

Arlington police were notified of the break at 1 a.m., over the police teletype.

About 3:15 a.m. Patrolmen Harold O'Leary and Gus Manderino spotted the car racing along Pleasant st., towards Arlington center.

The two officers gave chase in the patrol car and forced the escapees to the side of the road as they neared Massachusetts ave.

Although five men were supposed to be in the car the officers found only four. Questioning revealed that the fifth man had gone home. He was picked up by the officers and later all five were turned over to the Provost Marshall from the Boston Army Base.

Civilian Defense In Need Of 3,200 More Volunteers

March Of Dimes To Issue Final Report Shortly

The March of Dimes Committee will make a complete report on their drive for funds next week. They hope the "Mother's March" held last night will enable them to match last year's total.

Troop No. 62 of the Girl Scouts through their leader, Mrs. Francis Fullerton, 23 Wyman st., donated $5.00. The following scouts helped to collect: Dorothy Alecy, Susan Bray, Barbara Cashin, Eleanor Cronin, Frances Fullerton, Barbara Heidt, Carol and Lorraine Hughes, Barbara Keating, Joan Mahoney, Margaret McCarthy, Barbara White, Angela Nevele and Margaret Shannon.

Despite the cold weather, last night's effort on the part of hundreds of Arlington volunteers raised a large part of the quota sought by the local committee. Practically every street in Arlington was covered in the "Mother's March" with those willing to make a donation leaving their porch lights on until a volunteer called.

There will still be time for a few days to make donations either to the committee directly, or by dropping coins in the miniature lungs which will be picked up this week-end.

If you haven't yet made your donation to the March of Dimes, then do so immediately.

Selectmen's Notes

At last Monday's meeting, the Board of Selectmen, in view of a communication from the Arlington Heights Improvement Association, approved of a transfer of land from the Metropolitan District Commission to the Metropolitan Transit Authority. A hearing regarding the transfer was to be held yesterday morning at the State House.

The Inspector of Buildings reported permits totalling $306,735 for the week ending Jan. 26. The Annual Town Meeting Warrant was signed by the Selectmen.

Arlington High was granted the use of Robbins Memorial Town Hall for its Senior Prom tomorrow night.

A license was granted to William P. Forrester for a taxi stand at Mass. ave., and Brattle st. The usual Sunday licenses were granted.

Only 800 Have Returned Cards; Prompt Action Asked

The Arlington civilian defense program needs an estimated 4000 volunteer workers. This was the goal set by Daniel McFadden, director of the program, over two months ago.

The first week of January every home in Arlington received a letter from the civil defense headquarters containing a pamphlet, "Protection from the Atomic Bomb." With this booklet was prepaid and addressed postal card requesting the assistance of everyone over 21 in the defense effort.

While 11,000 of these volunteer cards were sent out to date only 800 have been returned.

The fire department needs auxiliary firemen. If you have not filled out a card, drop into the firehouse in Arlington center and fill out a questionnaire. You may file for any position for which you feel qualified.

Police headquarters and the civil defense headquarters on Ryder st., also has questionnaires. It is imperative that at least 3000 people sign up immediately.

Director McFadden also announced that he has ordered nine two-way radios and as the result of a recent survey six sirens are needed to augment the seven in storage.

John Wanamaker, captain of the Arlington civil patrol says that he would have eight planes available for spotting work in the event of an emergency. The squadron operates out of Bedford airport.

Another survey has been completed which shows the number of people who could be evacuated to this area from surrounding cities and towns and where they would be housed. Public buildings can be equipped to handle any controlled number of evacuees.

Travel Tough Had Enough?

"Snow for this week-end," says the weatherman and Arlington residents, many of them victims of the long-wait for transportation to work Monday morning, just looked with dismay at the skies, throw on more coal, oiled up the "creepers," got out the snow shovel and settled for a long-weekend with the TV set.

Hundreds of Arlington workers, who slipped and slid from their homes to the car stop Monday morning waited for over an hour while repairs fixed a trolley wire which had snapped in Arlington center stalling about twenty five street cars on Mass. ave.

Scores of the ice-coated business men and women saw their chance and boarded their 7:45 train for Boston, "Ol number nine" crawled into the center shortly after the break in the MTA wire. When it was packed like a sardine can it gave a jerk, started down the track and then broke down.

Another train, heaven knows which one, steamed in about 8:30 and transported most of the passengers to their destination.

Public Works men, who worked all Sunday night sanding the roads, started all over in the morning for the night rain which froze on contact spread a coating of oiled glass over the sand.

One man was injured in a fall. William McCall, 56, of 20 Amherst st., was treated for lacerations at the Symmes hospital after he fell in front of his home.

There were no accidents during or after the storm. An unattended car slid down Addison street but it stopped against the curb when it reached the bottom of the hill, causing no damage.

Scores of cars were stalled at the foot of Arlington hills, left there by drivers who could not maneuver on the glazed surface.

P. T. A. Opposes Storage Plan

The Arlington Council P. T. A. met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Eugenie Monahan, 1 Sawin st., Arlington, and went on record as opposing the petition of the Arlington Gas Light Co. for permission to erect storage tanks on Grove st. The Executive Board feels that such storage tanks would be detrimental to the safety of school children.

Plans are progressing for the entertainment to be presented Feb. 15, Brotherhood Night, at Junior High West auditorium. The rehearsal from groups sponsored by the P. T. A. units will be held in that hall Feb. 12.

POLICE SEEKING—

The man did not answer the description of the other attackers wanted by the police.

An hour after the search officer Edward Keating notified headquarters a man answering the description of the accoster had taken a taxi to Belmont. His street address was learned by the officer and the inspectors were sent to the home.

It was discovered after thorough questioning that the man was under the influence and thus another lead went out the window.

The first of the Arlington attacks began with a young lady being assaulted on Florence ave. She was struck on the head by a bottle wrapped in a stocking.

Following this attack a 5-year old girl was subjected to an indecent assault. Another heights woman had her clothes ripped from her body as she entered her home.

Last week a 13 year-old girl was assaulted on Mass. Ave., in the heights area but she bit her attacker causing him to run off.

Two nights later a young man wearing a white cloth over his face exposed himself to a woman on Park ave., and an hour later to another woman on Pleasant st.

Chief of Police Archie Bullock requested parents to instruct their children as follows:

In event of attack or attempt to entice them into a car, children or adults should first get the license number of any car the man might be using. Get a good description of the man noting clothes, hair, weight and any distinguishing features about his person.

This information should be reported immediately to the nearest officer or to police headquarters, AR 5-6200.

Have no fear of reporting this information, names or addresses will not be published in any paper and all information regarding the attack will be held confidential.

It is requested that no information be withheld as any small instance may lead to the capture of this culprit.

Trinity Baptist Lenten Program

Beginning Feb. 7 and continuing through March 14, a special program called "Adventures in Christian Living" is being given in East Arlington each Wednesday evening at 7:45 pm.

Due to the confusion and feeling of insecurity, it was thought wise to offer to the people of Trinity and their friends this program, consisting of two "Adventures" each evening—one called "The Life of Christ" arranged by Mr. Howard Whitehouse and Mr. Harold White, the other called "Personal Religious Living" arranged by Mr. Aubrey Rigby and Mr. Edward Moore. These programs will not only give Trinity people the opportunity to increase their personal spiritual strength and Christian Leadership but also give us a personal share in combating the strong foes of Christianity so prominent in the world today.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Fredriksen (Dorthea Spofford) of 69 Crescent Hill Avenue, Arlington, a son on January 9, 1911 at Symmes Arlington Hospital.

Garden Club Meets Wed.

A very interesting and instructive session has been arranged, under the direction of Mrs. Francis J. Davidson, for the Arlington Garden Club Study Group which meets next Wednesday afternoon (Feb. 7) at 1 P. M., in the small hall of the Robbins Library.

Thanks Seal Sale Workers

Mr. Daniel W. Rideout, chairman of the 1950 Christmas Seal Sale for Middlesex County, today publicly thanked the volunteers who "gave unstintingly of their time and energy" to make the 1950 campaign a success.

"Much of the credit for the success of the 1950 Christmas Seal Sale must go to the work of the volunteers," Mr. Rideout said. "Despite the great demands made on their time and energy during the campaign, the volunteers were always ready to pitch in and help wherever needed."

Although the Seal Sale officially closed on December 25, returns are continuing to come into headquarters of the association. The association is grateful for these late returns. The county is still short of the quota needed to carry on the association's 1951 program, Mr. Rideout said.

A resolution of thanks to every resident who bought and used Christmas Seals adopted and made public this week by the county Seal Sale Committee, followed by Mr. Rideout's official report on the Seal Sale in which he labeled the campaign "A true community project."

A competitive examination will be given to the applicants on Sat. March 3, at 9:00 A. M.

This past week, the contracting firm of T. R. Rawson, Incorporated started construction on the second section of the riprapping of the Alewife Brook between Arlington and Cambridge. This will continue the present work to Massachusetts Avenue.

The Massachusetts District Commission also awarded to the Berke-More Company the contract for the building of a new pumping station in the rear of the present pumping station at the junction of Alewife Brook Parkway. This pumping station is necessary to put into operation the 60 inch pipe for the removal of sewerage and pollution from lower Mystic Lake, which is now polluted by the sewerage overflowing from Alewife Brook.

This work is being done as the result of legislation requested by Representative Henry E. Keenan of Arlington. Riprapping will be continued to the Mystic River. This will help to clear up and beautify the Alewife Brook and the Mystic River and improve the appearance of the two parkways.

National Security Aided By Canadian Rail Lines

The immense strategic value of the railroad lines of Canada which extend into the sparsely populated regions of the far north to the security of the North American Continent are stressed by Stanley F. Dingle, vice president, operations, Canadian National Railways.

In an address delivered at Boston, Mr. Dingle said "there are men in the Pentagon; in Ottawa and Whitehall, who, looking at a map of this Continent, are thanking God that these Canadian National lines which reach north to Churchill on the shores of Hudson Bay and to Prince Rupert at the gateway to southwest Alaska, are shown on their maps."

"All values are not metallic and there is profit in how securely men sleep at night," Mr. Dingle said.

In describing the all-inclusive transportation services of his railway, the operating vice president of North America's largest railroad system asserted that the vast territories of the north are the least understood and most incompletely appreciated areas of the Continent. He said that this area just south of the "roof of the world" has potentialities and national and continental significance which have been obscured partly by events and partly by lack of popular understanding.

Mr. Dingle said the Canadian National is a huge and widespread system of 24,000 miles of first main track, running from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Vancouver and Prince Rupert on the Pacific coast. "We are the only railway which serves all of Canada's ten provinces... we operate our own express services and our own commercial telegraph company. We have a chain of 13 big hotels and own air lines and steamships. We cover a lot of ground."

Heart Fund Campaign Now Underway; Goal $350000

"New Hope for Hearts" is the keynote of the 1951 Heart Fund campaign that opens tomorrow to raise $350,000 in Massachusetts, it was announced today by State Chairman Edgar A. Perry.

Mr. Perry stressed the new spirit of hope for the nine million people in the United States who suffer from heart disease and the belief that heart scientists are on the verge of new discoveries that will cut the national toll of 600,000 lives that are taken annually by our country's leading killer.

The Massachusetts campaign is part of the nation wide drive of the American Heart Association to raise eight million dollars to finance a three point program of research, education, and community service.

Great strides in heart research have been made in recent years through funds contributed by the public. In the Bay State in 1950, the Greater Boston Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association has financed 15 research projects in nine Massachusetts medical centers. But scientists need more funds to find controls for rheumatic fever, high blood pressure, and hardening of the arteries which account for 90 percent of all heart diseases, Mr. Perry said.

Throughout February, Mr. Perry and Congressman John P. Kennedy, Boston chairman, will head a state wide organization of volunteer workers who will ask the residents of Massachusetts to give to fight heart disease.

The volunteer workers will solicit both by mail and door-to-door in an effort to give everyone an opportunity to do his part in controlling the disease which causes one out of every two deaths after the age of 45.

Plastic hearts will again this year help human hearts. Over 20,000 of the red heart-shaped plastic coin collectors, will be placed on retail counters and other public locations throughout the State.

Mrs. Abraham Pinanski of Brookline, Sponsor of the Heart Fund, summed up the feelings of many of these volunteer workers when she recently stated, "Those of us who have worked in hospitals, and there are many of us who have, realize the threat that heart disease presents to our families and we will ask those who send valentines this year to send a valentine to Heart."

Mr. Perry reminded the public that 60 percent of all funds raised stay with the local community chapter with 15 percent to the Massachusetts Heart Association and 25 percent to the American Heart Association to finance organization and scientific research.

It's time we got working mad!

As we read about the latest tricks of Moscow and her Communist puppets, we're likely to get fighting mad.

Instead, we'd better use our heads and get working mad. For there's still a good chance that we can lick the Communists with more work instead of more blood. Here's why:

It is clear by now that Stalin and his gang respect just one thing—strength. Behind the Iron Curtain they've been building a huge fighting machine while we were reducing ours.

Now we are in grave danger. We must rebuild our defenses—fast.

As things stand today, there seems to be only one way to prevent World War III. That is to re-arm—to become strong—and to stay that way.

This calls for better productivity all along the line. Not just in making guns, tanks and planes, but in turning out civilian goods, too.

Arms must come first. But we must also produce all the essential civilian goods.

shortage of civilian goods will boost prices and make our dollars worth less.

We can do this double job if we all work together to turn out more for every hour we work—if we use our ingenuity to step up productivity—to find the short cuts. America can do it!

All of us must now make sacrifices for the common good. But we're working for the biggest reward of all—peace with freedom!

FREE This important booklet tells you how our American System Grew Great

How Americans developed better machines, power and skills to build a great nation... Why we have been able to produce constantly more per hour... How this has given us the world's highest living standard.

How we can meet today's challenge—Why we must expand our productive capacity... supply arms and essential civilian needs, too. Read how this dynamic process works in free booklet "The Miracle of America," endorsed by representatives of management and labor. Send for your free copy today!

Den Mothers Highlight Of Minstrel Show

The Den Mothers walked away with the honors at Pack 20, Cub Scouts, Annual Minstrel Show at the Brackett School Hall on Friday, January 20th. Just before the grand finale, the curtains were drawn and the stage set for their skit, "A LIVE Den Meeting," which was written, directed and acted by the den mothers themselves. It is doubtful whether there has ever been a more realistic presentation given on the stage of the Brackett School Hall. Each of the den mothers was true to the character she was portraying, and the audience was completely convinced.

The balance of the show was of excellent calibre. With Mr. Walker, the Cubmaster, as Master of Ceremonies, things moved fast and smoothly. The end men were Jerry and Al Rivenburg. The chorus consisted of boys from dens 11 & 12, Douglas Moxham, Harold Wilson, William Clarke, Bruce Benson, Kevin Callahan, David McElligott, William Storey, David Rivenburg, Roger French, and Richard French. The music was conducted by Mrs. Magurn and Mrs. French, with special musical arrangements by Mrs. French. As an added feature Mr. Storey appeared curing the show and acted as heckler for the end men from the front of the audience.

There were three father and son presentations: Dr. Baker accompanied his son, Richard, & Tommy Alderson while they sang a duet; Mr. Bogardus sang "The Three Trees" while his son, Robert, acted the story out; Mr. Cutler and his son, Steve, did an impersonation of Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy.

A welcoming kit was written by Mrs. Heaps and presented by Warren Heaps and Joseph Saeger. Donald Avery and Walter Dickson did a pantomime depicting a boy and his girl out for a ride in the car.

Douglas Parker played three accordion solos. John Huffman did magic tricks accompanied by Thom Freeman. Steven Waller gave a recitation. Stephen Hoffman played a flute solo, and Harold Wilson gave a humorous recitation.

The boys in den 2 sang western songs in costume. Den 5 presented the song, "A Bicycle Built For Two," with real bicycles on the stage, and "I Never See Maggie Alone" was interpreted by the boys in den 5. Den 8 did a very clever pantomime of "The Thing," while

Dever Adds To Defense Dept's

Marking another important development in state civil defense, Gov. Paul A. Dever in an executive order effective this week assigned eight state departments and divisions to assist Public Welfare Commissioner Patrick A. Tompkins as head of the civil war aid section of the program.

Simultaneously, the Governor defined the powers and duties of civilian war aid leaders at the state, regional and local levels. Those assigned were the Departments of Agriculture, Banking and Insurance, Labor and Industries, State Auditor and State Treasurer, and the divisions of markets, employment security and necessities.

"It is essential," Gov. Dever stated, "that adequate provision be made for the organization and mobilization of all personnel and equipment within the Commonwealth which may be necessary or useful in carrying out the responsibilities and functions of the civil war aid division."

"Civilian war aid divisions of the state and of the local civil defense organizations shall make preparations to furnish the following services in event of disaster, in so far as their personnel and equipment permit: Evacuee registration, emergency housing, feeding, clothing, financial assistance, and rehabilitation."

The Governor's order provides that subject to Commissioner Tompkins' approval, each of the nine regional defense directors in the state and the co-ordinators on civilian war aid shall:

facilities available in his city or town inadequate to deal with conditions, he may under the request his regional director to mobilize and dispatch additional assistance. The regional director, subject to the approval of State Civil Defense Director John P. Stokes, (a) Supervise and assist in the organization and training of the civilian war aid divisions of the local organizations.

"(b) Expedite the making of any study and survey of civilian war aid personnel and equipment required by executive orders." During the existing state of emergency, if any local defense director deems the civilian war aid is empowered under the executive order to meet the request for assistance.

Dens 11 & 12 sang and danced the "Hokey Pokey."

Philip Healy did a clever comic roller skating act, and Den 9 brought the house down with a "Casey Jones" number.

The show closed with a tambourine duet by Mr. French and Mr. Rivenburg while the entire company sang, "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Win Watch Awards for 4-H Work

HANDSOME gold-filled watches were awarded three club members for achieving highest rating in Massachusetts for work in the 1950 national 4-H meat animal, dairy achievement and dairy foods demonstration awards programs. A review of their records follows.

William Thomas Whitney, Jr.

Mary Palczynski

Wendell Nelson

Achievement in dairy production and management has earned state honors for William Thomas Whitney, Jr., 15, of So. Byfield in the 4-H Dairy Achievement program. Dairy practices and care of animals learned in the project has given him an understanding of the principles of sanitation and animal health. William also has learned the value of teamwork and sportsmanship. A 4-H'er for six years, he started his herd in 1945 with the purchase of a Jersey calf. He has increased the value and size of his herd until he now has 14 Jerseys. William has been awarded many honors among them county dairy achievement medal the past two years, winning the Eastern States Judging contest, and other judging and showmanship prizes. William serves as vice-president of his local club. Lederle Laboratories has provided his award.

honors to Mary Palczynski, 18, of Westfield. Her prize-winning demonstration was "Yardstick for a School Lunch." Her project, Dairy Foods Demonstration, is sponsored by the Carnation Co., who presented the watch award. Mary admitted that a lot of planning and practicing were necessary before she was ready to give her finished demonstration. Mary has held every office in her local 4-H Club and has served as the junior leader four years.

Winning state honors in the 4-H Meat Animal program came to a busy and eventful six years in club work for Wendell Nelson, 15, of Reading, who has raised sheep for six years. From two sheep which his father bought for him in 1945, Wendell has increased his flock to 28. Throughout his club work he has been a consistent winner on his sheep. He also has had horse, poultry and steer projects. Thos. E. Wilson, Chicago meat packer, has provided awards in this program for 21 years.

A delegation of Boy Scouts helped the Office of Civilian Defense in processing and mailing pamphlets, "Protection Against the Atom Bomb," together with a letter from the Selectmen asking the voters to read them. Under the capable leadership of Commissioner Horace Homer, with the assistance of Charles R. Armour and other Scout leaders, a "chain" was formed and some 11,000 pieces of material were handled. At peak 200 were being processed every five minutes. # Arlington Loses To Melrose 4-2

An underdog Arlington high hockey sextet went down to a 4-2 defeat at the hands of a vastly superior Melrose high Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden before a small number of fans.

Melrose Wins
The tempo of the fight increased in this period with Arlington wearing T-shirts over their red jerseys to distinguish them from Melrose players.

With Arlington goalie Morgan making 17 saves to five for Why-not of Melrose, the Raiders chalked up two more goals against Arlington's one making the final 4-2.

Dewsnap of Melrose scored their third goal at 4:05, with Bill Vassill of Arlington hitting the nets at 9:02. With only seconds left to play, Kennefic of Melrose roared through the Arlington defense and scored unassisted at 9:38, putting the game on ice for the Raiders.

Penalties
Melrose continued to hold a slight edge in the second period with both teams sending half of their men to the hoosegow. Arlington tied it up at the six minute mark but Melrose roared into the lead two minutes later.

The Arlington goal was made after Higgins had carried the puck to the Melrose side from his own nets. He fired the puck behind the nets where Reimer picked it up and fired out to Noyes who sunk it.

As the period neared its end, Marsois of Melrose soared down the ice past four Arlington men and fired a great shot which slid by Morgan's left side, for the one point leader.

Coolidge of Arlington was in the penalty box at the time, sitting out a high sticker.

Kyle-Holland

With the brides' two sisters and the bridegroom's three brothers in attendance, Miss Virginia Marie Holland, daughter of Mr. Ralph Joseph Holland of Arlington Hts., and Mr. Francis Xavier Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Kyle of Charlestown, were married yesterday morning. The 10 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles McCarthy in St. James' Church, Arlington Heights.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace. Her finger-tip illusion veil was caught to a satin cap and she carried a white prayer book, white gladioli, and feathered carnations.

SPOTS ON SPORTS

What happened to the Arlington club which defeated a powerful Cambridge Latin sextet in the hockey upset of the year? What became of the team work, the co-ordination, the passing, the offense and defense and most of all the will to win?

SPORT TALK MOHONEY

The icemen lost a game to a very weak opponent Stoneham high. They lost for a combination of the reasons listed above. Stoneham was a club which could not skate, could not even play hockey although granted they tried hard.

Then came Melrose. The Arlington men seemed to wait behind their blue line the entire three periods for the Melrose club to score. They played a fair defensive game, which would have been wonderful if they were leading.

Offensively the Spy Ponders gave a repetition of the exhibition given at the Stoneham game. Coach Burns expressed dismay at the lack of team work and told the boys they would get plenty of practise in passing this week.

When any criticism is offered, someone always says, "they're only high schoolers and after all they were picked to finish fifth by their own coach."

I will shoot this theory full of holes. They are not a fifth place team. They proved this by taking the lead in the GBI race and then dropping to a solid third place.

The Arlington club has a good chance of finishing first and an excellent chance of being second. This will be, if they decide to play hockey.

The team was up for the Cambridge Latin game. They should have been up for the Melrose game but as was proved Goalie Morgan was the only one who could play a decent game last Saturday.

As for being high schoolers? The lads have proven their metal. They have showed what they can do. Going on this record, they should play their best whenever they go on the ice. Their fans and their school expects them to. If they are capable of doing then they should quit playing sports.

The Spy Ponders will enter into playoff competition on Saturday. They will again face the formidable Melrose squad. They can beat this team. It is time they proved to be a first place team, not a fifth rate one.

It should prove interesting to watch the squad on Saturday and see the difference which I am sure will be evident.

Now for a quick switch to Arlington's other sport, Football.

Minute-Men Snap Indians Streak; Win By 10 Points

Faltering in the final quarter after they had eked out a one pt. margin at the three quarter mark, Winchester's high school's gallant Indians dropped their first basketball game of the season after 8 straight league wins and 11 consecutive victories, as they fell before a determined Minute-Man quintet from Lexington high school 56-46 last Friday night at Lexington.

"Butch" Lee, Lexington high school ace, lead the Minute Men as they avenged an earlier whacking at Winchester's hands, as he chalked up 20 big points to provide the first black mark on Winchester's bid for an unbeaten season.

The Lexington win means that the Winchester five must win from Belmont for the second time this year when they return to Belmont later in the season. A Belmont win will drag the Indians back into a top place tie in the Middlesex League.

The game last Friday was nip and tuck all the way, as the hard-working Indians managed to pull into the final quarter ahead by a solitary point. But in the final period Lee and his mates scored 17 points to six for the visiting

Squires Man To Watch In Mile At State Track Meet

Arlington is shooting for top spot in the State meet which opens Saturday at the West Armory.

Doc McCarthy coach of the squad, says his boys can win if everybody is up to par. We've got the stuff to make the other guys look silly," the Doctor said.

Bill Squires, the best trackman to come out of Arlington high in years, will take his first shot at the State record—4:34.3 on Saturday.

The seventeen year-old junior has only been running for seven months and has beaten the record by 23 seconds.

His most formidable opponent on Saturday will be Albert Porter

Richard Gleason of East Lebanon, Me., former Arlington High football captain and Marine veteran, was the recipient of the Allan Leon Pond Medal, annually presented to that player who has been of the greatest value to the team and a credit to the University.

Gleason won three varsity letters under coach Tommy Eck and was the most versatile athlete on the team playing end and tackle his first two years before switching to fullback last Fall.

Attending the conference were high school students from Portland, Lewiston, Augusta, Waterville, Brunswick, and other high schools in the south central part of Maine.

Among the junior and senior high school students who appeared on the Student Radio Club over WCOP Sunday at 5 p. m. was Maria Moncardini, 48 Newland Rd., Arlington.

"Here's the Pitch"

By "Bump" Hadley
WBZ, WBZ-TV Sportscaster and Former Major League Pitcher

A COUPLE of years ago, there was a complaint by several major leaguers to the effect that the Spring training seasons, and the Spring exhibition series were too long, and that this extra work left the players tired, listless and unable to do their best in late September.

But some ball players keep at it all year long. Several major league ball players and many minor league ball players, are playing in the Winter leagues in Havana, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Panama.

Mike Guerra, the catcher whom the Boston Red Sox recently purchased from Philadelphia, is not only playing, but is also manager of the Almendares Blues in the Cuban Winter league. On that same team are Roberto Ortiz who belongs to the Birmingham Barons in the Southern Association and Don Thompson of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Playing for Cienfuegos in that league is Catcher Ray Noble, whom the New York Giants recently purchased from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. Conrado Marrera, the Washington Senator pitcher, is pitching for Almendares and Hank Workman, who belongs to the New York Yankees, is an outfielder for the same team.

Sandy Consuegra, another Washington Senator pitcher, is hurling for Maricao. Don Bollweg, who is supposed to be the new first baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals, is playing for Mayaguez in the Puerto Rican league.

If the veterans get tired from too many exhibition games, how about these players who play all winter?

Guest Speaker

Guest speaker at the meeting of the Cambridge Rotary Club Thursday (Feb. 1) noon in the Hotel Commander, Cambridge, will be Professor Ascher Shapiro of Arlington, whose topic will be "Federalism of the Democracies."

Drive Carefully

Among the junior and senior high school students who appeared on the Student Radio Club over WCOP Sunday at 5 p. m. was Maria Moncardini, 48 Newland Rd., Arlington.

Chief Warns Of Hazards Of Winter In Car

Winter's most dangerous driving a good six weeks of it — is possibly still ahead, Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock warned motorists yesterday.

During this period, he said, police must devote a large share of their attention to automobile accidents, all of them involving property damage and some involving death or injuries.

"The best way to handle an accident is to prevent it," he said, as he appealed to automobile drivers to help police reduce the town's annual traffic toll.

"One good way is to keep your car in shape for winter driving. Another is to drive a little slower and make allowance for the extra hazards introduced by snow and ice."

He warned motorists that so-called "winterized" or "mud-snow" tires are of little help when streets really get slippery. On glaze ice, he said, actual tests by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards show that tire chains are the best anti-skid protection.

Without chains, he said, it takes a car traveling 20 miles an hour 75 feet, to stop on packed snow. With chains, the car can be stopped in about half this distance. On glare ice, it's about 188 feet without, and 88 feet with chains.

"Even safer than chains," the Chief said, "is the practice of leaving your car home when the streets are slippery."

1. Get the "feel" of the road when starting out.
2. Adjust your speed to road conditions.
3. Use tire chains on snow or ice.
4. Keep snow, ice, frost, or steam off windshield and windows.
5. Slow down at curves and intersections.
6. Keep a safe distance between vehicles.
7. Use signals when turning or stopping.

Among the junior and senior high school students who appeared on the Student Radio Club over WCOP radio station recently were: Marilyn Crest, 20 Kenilworth rd., Arlington.

Career Meetings

The Guidance Department of the School Department is presenting a series of Career Meetings. On Tuesday, January 30, at 2 p. m., three speakers will discuss occupations and educational opportunities for high school graduates. The meetings are open to students and parents are also invited to attend.

Mr. Roland Darling of Northeastern University will present a broad survey about training requirements and opportunities in the Medical and Allied Fields, Agricultural and Biological Sciences, Architecture and Planning, Fine Arts, Language Arts, Social Sciences, Physical Sciences, Teaching and Law.

Mrs. Ruth Fernandez of Massachusetts General Hospital will provide information about nursing training in hospitals and in college; the essential characteristics for success in this field; the latest news about plans for Cadet Nurse Training; the kinds of positions in the field; and the satisfactions a girl may hope to find when she becomes a nurse. The requirements for entrance to all types of nursing schools will be explained.

Miss Helen Kroepsch, Employment Supervisor of John Hancock Life Insurance Company, will provide information of value to commercial, college or general course students. She will discuss positions which are open to beginners, the way to apply for these positions, the working conditions in large offices, the opportunities for on-the-job training, and how to qualify for promotion.

Parking Meter At Museum Of Science Park

Last week the Cambridge Public Works Department installed a parking meter of all places in the lobby of the museum of Science.

Attracting attention to the fact that the Museum of Science will not be parked at its Temporary Headquarters after March, the parking meter also provides an opportunity for youngsters to contribute as "Museum Builders" to the development of Science Park.

Expressing a keen interest in the Museum's latest attraction, many youngsters have already started the meter ticking with their nickels and dimes. The Museum staff is rushing to install exhibits in the new building, so that there will be no over time parking at Science Park.

Red Cross Asks For Volunteers

Because of increasing blood program activities, the Red Cross now needs many additional men and women to join as volunteers in this life saving effort.

With the operation of two Boston Blood Centers at 314 Dartmouth st. and 165 Congress st., and the February opening of another Bussey Institution, South St., Jamaica Plain, trained nurse's aides, gray ladies, staff aides, can permanent donor center at the teen aides and motor service drivers are needed.

Others are needed for the operation of bloodmobile units which work throughout the Metropolitan area collecting blood for the wounded in Korea, civilians and for Civil Defense stockpiling.

The blood program is one of the busiest of Red Cross activities in the present world situation and with the need for blood spiraling more and more, volunteers are required to carry out the work.

Joining doctors, nurses and technicians in the essential program, volunteers play a vital role in the blood collection picture.

Income Taxes

This is the second in a series of eight articles on Federal and State Income Taxes.

WHERE CAN I GET THE ANSWER TO A TAX QUESTION?

If you have an usual tax problem, you should go to the local office of the Collector of Internal Revenue or to a competent tax man.

Is the pension I receive from my employer considered taxable income?

Your pension is considered taxable income unless you contributed a certain amount to the pension plan through payroll withholdings. An illustration will help to clarify the latter situation.

Assume that an individual retired on December 31, 1949; and that during his period of employment he contributed through payroll withholdings a total of $4,000 toward a pension plan. The $4,000 represents his investment in the pension plan.

Assume further that the individual received $100 a month during 1950 from his pension. Of the $120 received in 1950 he will have to report $120 (3% of $4,000); the remainder, $108, is considered a return of his investment. The taxpayer will continue to report the $120 each year until he recovers his $4,000 investment. Thereafter he will report $120 a year as taxable income.

ARE CONTEST AWARDS AND PRIZES CONSIDERED TAXABLE INCOME?

Generally speaking, yes. The payment received is usually deemed to be consideration for services rendered by the contestant to the company making the award. In some instances, however, the amount received may be considered a gift rather than income for services rendered. A gift is not taxable income.

I insure my automobile with a mutual insurance company. Is the dividend I receive from the mutual insurance company considered taxable income?

No. The dividend you receive from the mutual insurance company is simply an adjustment of the cost of the insurance.

MUST I REPORT THE INTEREST ON MY SAVINGS BONDS?

The interest you have collected on your Savings Bonds is taxable unless the bonds were purchased before March 1, 1941. If the bonds were purchased before March 1, 1941, the interest received on $5,000 is wholly exempt each year. If the bonds are held jointly by you and your wife, you may exclude the interest on $10,000. The exemption of the interest on the $5,000 or $10,000 is based on the purchase price and not on the maturity value of the bonds.

MUST I REPORT THE INCOME OF MY WIFE AND CHILDREN?

You must report your wife's income if you file a joint return. You do not report the income of your children on your return.

Red Cross volunteers are also needed in local hospitals to help the professional staffs.

Boston military and civilian hospitals, time requested of volunteers is as little as four hours a week or as many hours as an aide can devote to the humanitarian and near-warming job.

Registrations and additional information on classes can be obtained by calling the Boston Metropolitan Red Cross headquarters, 17 Gloucester st., Ken. ore 6-6226.

Termed as the "backbone" of the organization, Red Cross volunteers devote themselves to duties that help bring health to the sick and wounded.

Since there is an increased demand for volunteers, it is advised that plans be made now to join any one of the number of Red Cross volunteer activities.

Call 1950 Year Of Transition

Boston, Jan. —The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston today described 1950 as a year of transition in which economic behavior patterns changed abruptly in mid-year.

An article in the bank's current Monthly Review states that the invasion of South Korea in June marked the abrupt change. Although business activity in New England had been steadily edging upward during the first few months of 1950, the questions upmost in the minds of business was, "How far will the recovery extend, and can we avoid a recession?" However, thoughts of recession soon vanished with the announcement of a large new military program.

The level of business in New England rose sharply in the summer and fall of 1950, largely as a result of civilian purchases. Military orders, although substantial during 1950, will have their greatest effect upon the economy in 1951.

New England manufacturing employment rose gradually during the first half of the year, and more sharply after July. The volume of national production in October and November was 215 per cent of the 1935-1939 average. The year ended with manufacturers receiving new orders in great volume.

Consumer demand during the latter half of the year pulled down manufacturers' inventories. Business and agricultural loans outstanding increased by 33 per cent 3,330,600 workers were employed in the region. This was five per cent more than the number at work both in June and in October 1949, up their buying, remembering the shortages of World War II. By Spring.

Price movements in 1950 reflected the year's twofold character. The Korean out-break obliterated any fears of a summer slackening in business activity. Individuals and business firms promptly stepped between January and November. Capital expenditures increased, consumer income climbed and individual savings dropped.

The autumn of 1950 brought the reappearance of credit restrictions which had been gradually discontinued after World War II. Restrictions upon consumer installment buying were renewed in September under Regulation W, and mortgage restrictions on new residential construction were imposed in October under Regulation X. The latter restrictions are designed to cut home building by a third, making materials available for defense construction. Their effects will not be fully apparent before the stimulus, but the big bulge resulted largely from the increase in capital replacement and expansion after June 25. Toward the end November, the Bureau of Labor Statistics index of basic commodity prices was 39 per cent above the March level. The Bureau of Labor Statistics consumer price index reached a new all-time high in October. It stood 0.2 per cent above the previous high in 1948 and 2.7 per cent above the pre-Korean level.

Labor conditions in New England improved during the first half of 1950, with non-agricultural employment climbing slowly from the postwar low reached in February.

After the outbreak of war in Korea, employers hired at a more rapid rate until in October industry expanded employment 17 per cent from January to October, and the rate of receipt of new orders more than doubled. Machine tools took the lead. New orders for machine tools in the nation during the second half of 1950 were five times as large as those received in the same month of 1949. The number of persons drawing unemployment benefits was at the lowest level since World War II. Factory employment increased more rapidly than non-manufacturing employment.

Nineteen fifty was a good year for manufacturing in New England with metal working industries taking the lead in the new industrial speed-up. Producers of electrical machinery and apparatus expanded their employment 22 per cent between January and October as new orders increased more than 150 per cent. Television sets, household appliances and other consumer items provided an important second half of 1949. Automobile assembly and parts plants in New England ran at near capacity of the year, military orders became the outstanding factor in the expansion of the electrical industry, as cut-backs occurred in many consumer items.

The nonelectrical machinery levels, while aircraft engine and parts manufacturers have received government contracts in great volume. Several Connecticut plants closed since World War II have reopened. Shipbuilding activity has expanded somewhat, although not in all yards.

Ordnance production picked up momentum in the second half of 1950, but a more substantial expansion is in the offing for 1951.

Other durable goods production felt the stimulus of wartime buying, with lumber in particular at a premium. By the end of the third dry lumber were unusually low, but the situation has eased recently. The market for New England-made furniture remained strong throughout the first 11 months of 1950, but uncertainty began to appear around December 1.

The non-durable goods industries of New England were slower to respond to the new set of economic conditions. Employment in the textile industry increased 10 per cent from July to October. Woolen products did not fare as well as the rest of the industry. The shortage of wool and its high cost, plus inability to secure defense contracts, caused lay-offs at a number of New England woolen mills in December. By the end of the year a cautious attitude of watchfulness prevailed among New England textile and apparel manufacturers because of high prices and shortages of raw materials, a tight labor market, a delay in the expected consumer shift to soft goods and concern about how consumers would react to higher prices of apparel and other textile products.

New England shoe and leather plants had a relatively good year. Production and employment were slightly higher than in 1949. Shoe stores did not share substantially in the stepped-up consumer buying, however, and some retailers are hesitant about making heavy commitments for next spring.

The costume jewelry industry experienced a disappointing Spring but expanded output after the July vacation season. The food industry lagged behind its performance in 1949, and employment in the printing and publishing industry was only slightly higher than in 1949. Pulp and paper firms, on the other hand, faced a steady increase in demand, so much so that gray markets became prevalent. The chemical and rubber industries in New England also expanded their rates of operation and employment

State Reports Now Available

Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin said today that copies of the Massachusetts financial reports and the 1950 Judicial Council report are now available at the Public Documents Division.

Boston college students in authentic costumes will present Greek, Spanish and Mexican dances in a floor show on the first floor. Aquacade and modern dance demonstrations are scheduled regularly throughout the afternoon and evening. For the convenience of mothers with young children, teenage graduates of last year's Y. W. C. A. baby-sitting course will sponsor a "Check your Child" service year ending June 30, 1950 is free to the public as is the 26th report of the Massachusetts Council. In view of the increasing interest in finances of the state government, Mr. Cronin declared that the demand for the reports this year might be very heavy.

Among the items for sale at low

Copies of each may be obtained either in person or by writing to the Public Documents Division, Room 116, State House, Boston 33, Mass.
